TO ASTORIA

Wishing to recognize our historic city in its Sesquicentennial year, we dedicate the ZEPHYRUS to Astoria. Our town has grown from a trading post, first settled in 1811, to a prosperous seaport city, known especially for its fishing and lumbering industries and the Tongue Point Naval Base. We are proud to live in the oldest American settlement west of the Rocky Mountains.

It seems fitting that the names of our early explorers have lingered on in the names of our schools, our rivers and other landmarks. Captain Robert Gray, who discovered and named the Columbia River for his own ship; Meriwether Lewis and William Clark, whose overland expedition and winter encampment here gave us claim to the territory; and John Jacob Astor, who financed that first fur trading company, were among the first comers.

But there have been many others down through the years who have helped in the development of our town. Today we wish to salute not only the early pioneers, but all who have made their homes here, and built our community.

The days of gill netting in sailing boats are gone. Astoria has almost forgotten the disastrous fire of 1922 and is talking of a bridge, which we hope will soon be built across the river. As we remember the past, we look forward to an even brighter future for Astoria.

The Astor Column, erected by the Great Northern Railroad and the relatives of John Jacob Astor, is a striking landmark, which depicts the early history of Clatsop County.

FORT CLATSOP

One of the most picturesque views in the Lower Columbia area is that of the fishing boats riding at anchor in Astoria's West End Mooring Base.

Gillnetters, trowlers, draggers, trollers, all bring in their catches of salmon, bottomfish, tuna, or shrimp to the local waterfront canneries. After unloading is completed, the captains pilot their vessels into the quiet waters of the mooring base where repairs and net work can be done.

OUR SCHOOL DAY

Arthur G. Stonglond, Dr. John Hickmon, chairman; Douglas V. Olds, superintendent; and Helen E. Murroy, clerk.

ASTORIA SCHOOLS ABLY RUN

Mr. Olds graciously gives his valuable time for our Zephyrus photo.

The Academic program at A.H.S. has become one of the best in the state, under the able guidance of Mr. Douglas Olds, superintendent of schools, and the board of directors. These busy people must struggle with the problems of hiring teachers, adopting a budget, and many other business details that are necessary in the running of a first class school district.

Mr. Olds is a spirited supporter of the local sports program, attempting to attend as many events as possible. Both his interest in the education of the youth and in their activities and welfare have made him well-known and respected by students and townspeople alike.

ADMINISTRATORS CONFER OFTEN

Mr. Parnell assists Mr. Skaggs in making one of the many decisions necessary for school operation.

One can find Mr. Albert Skaggs, principal of A.H.S., interested and at work in every phase of high school life. Several hours of each day are spent counseling students and attending student council meetings and assemblies.

In his leisure time, Mr. Skaggs can be found at home enjoying the company of his wife and four children, or out on the golf course.

According to Mr. Skaggs, "This has been one of Astoria High's finest years. The students are to be congratulated on their growing realization that school is to be taken seriously."

With the three-fold job of vice-principal, deal of boys, and athletic coordinator, Mr. Robert Parnell, who has been at Astoria High School for three years, finds his days busy. Much of each day is spent counseling boys with problems and, also, aiding them in finding the right field for a vocation.

Our vice-principal, also, enjoys golf as a hobby and likes to spend time with his wife and two children.

When asked what he thought of the students' attitudes, Mr. Parnell commented that the sportsmanship of the students is very good and their enthusiasm commendable.

COUNSELORS APPROVE ADDITIONAL

Miss Halderman shows Miss Friedrich, Miss Upham, and Mr. Sorenson some of the valuable material on file in the library.

These teachers work closely with the students as guidance counselors.

Besides instructing English classes, Margaret Upham serves as Dean of Girls. Each day, although kept busy writing pre-excuses and absentee slips, she finds time to counsel girls who come to her with their problems.

Eugene Sorenson, director of guidance, helps students determine their educational and vocational goals and assists them in scheduling classes.

When she is not teaching social education and geography, Anna Marie Friedrich can be found administering aptitude, scholastic, or interest tests to A.H.S.'ers.

Marjorie Halderman, who is in charge of the school library, teaches library methods to student assistants. Much of her time is taken up in advising the student body officers and council.

CLASSES

What's New

A favorite expression each fall when school opens is, "What's new?" The things that are different make each year unique.

Appearing for the first time this winter was the giant figure of the "Fighting Fisherman", painted with his "catch" on the wall of the gym.

Fresh outlooks and even heart-throbs for certain members of the student body were supplied by the seven new faculty members.

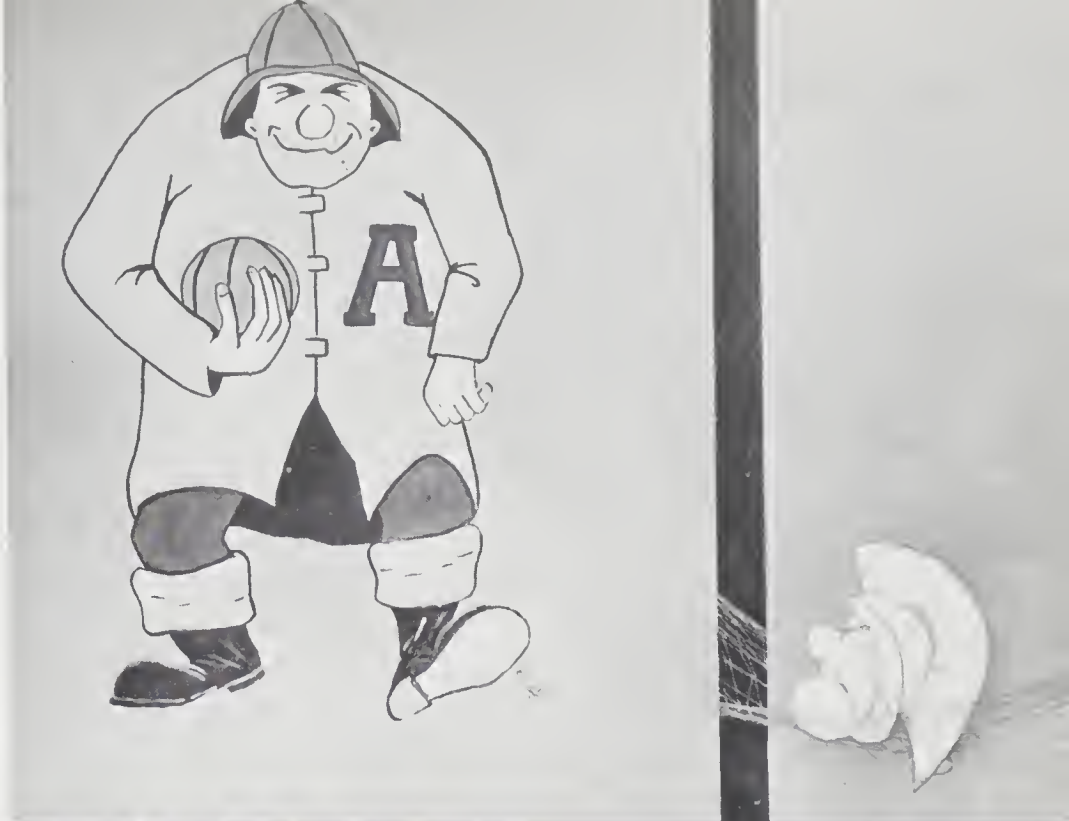

The school betterment committee, the shorter skirts, the lunchroom music, and the largest freshman class all added something new this year.

"The "Fighting Fisherman" hauls in his catch.

Advanced Biology students dissect a squid.

Mr. Hautala supervises machine shop students.

Practical experience gained by P.E. assistants.

Good books, teachers and physical facilities aid learning. True education is achieved only through study.

STUDY IS BASIS OF LEARNING

Music appreciation is often taught through the fine records available. Miss Haldermon helps Paul Saderman choose one of these.

Choice Offered

Although activities form a major interest during the school year, the real foundation of the high school is its academic program of studies. Learning is the business of the school and it can only be achieved through study.

To the student who wishes to learn today there is a wide choice of elective subjects at Astoria High School ranging from machine shop to library methods.

Not only scholastic courses are offered such as four years of mathematics, advanced classes in science, three foreign languages, and, of course, the required courses in the fields of history and language arts; but also classes in music, art, business, physical education, shop and home economics.

Valuable aids in making wise decisions are given by faculty counselors, aptitude tests and guidance material supplied through the library.

Language arts teachers conferring on a mutual problem are Miss Curry, Mrs. Egan, Mrs. Swanson, Mrs. Christensen, Mrs. Nopson, Miss Thorne, Mr. Basarabo, Mr. Sanders and Mr. Carlson

LANGUAGE SKILLS ESSENTIAL

Learning to write well can be a purposeful, satisfying experience, and writing is one of the fields which the language arts department stresses in its course of study. Reading, listening, and speaking are other skills improved through training.

Recent increased interest in classes of French, Latin, and Spanish indicate that Astoria students realize the value of bilingual study.

Other electives which offer activities as well as class work are speech, journalism and drama.

Miss Thorne makes learning of foreign language a memorable experience for her students.

JOB PREPARATION STARTED

Child care is studied in home economics.

Typical of American schools today, the vocational and business departments of Astoria High School offer the students a broad choice of subjects which increase their skills and talents.

Basic fundamentals in crafts and trades are taught in well-equipped shops and business rooms.

"Shutter Bugs," as amateur photographers are often called, are instructed in the essential tricks of photography.

Distributive Education is offered to those students wishing part-time employment during school hours. Such a program grants that the students receive school credit for their work as well as for their academic courses.

Mr. Baesler demonstrates the rudiments of typing to the vocational and business teachers. Looking on are Mr. Jensen, Mr. Hautala, Miss Baker, Miss Hugg, Mr. Rathwell, Mr. Marshall, Mr. Hiestand, and Mr. Fink.

P. E. DEVELOPS BODY, MIND

Although usually found supervising physical education classes, Mr. Mosby, Mrs. Layton, and Mr. Phillips are seen relaxing for a minute on the "horse," a piece of the gymnasium equipment.

Fitness Important

Physical Education is a very important part of a school's program because it is the only course which helps a student improve his physical as well as his mental abilities.

The exercises, sports, and games are essential to normal bodily growth and well-being, while they also teach a student teamwork and aid him in developing qualities of both a follower and a leader.

Although P.E. is a required course for lower classmen, many juniors and seniors elect to continue gym classes because they enjoy a daily workout and the athletic activities.

Dan Brandon works out on the bar in the gym while Kenneth Brown and Eugene Hughes act as his spotters.

Always interested in new equipment, the math and science teachers Mr. Reuter, Mr. Evons, Mr. Gross, Mr. Clark and Mrs. Jensen watch Mr. Scott demonstrate the cycloid generator.

MATH, SCIENCE EMPHASIZED

Dan Mahoney and Gerold Dye make use of the modern lab equipment in working out a chemistry experiment.

Since the launching of Sputnik, American schools have encouraged their students to study more math and science, and A.H.S. is one of these schools in which an increased number of students are taking advanced courses in these fields.

Having learned the basic fundamentals of math and science in high school, Astoria students will have sufficient background to study them more widely and thoroughly in college. Perhaps after graduation they will become some of the scientists or engineers which the United States needs so badly.

JR. CITIZENS ASK QUESTIONS

Dan Mahoney debates an current topic in U. S. history.

What started the struggle between communism and democracy in the world? What nations make up the Far East? What is in the Constitution of the United States? How can we become better citizens? These are a few of the questions students encounter in the various social studies courses taught at A.H.S. These courses give students a knowledge of the world's history, and reveal to them how the differences in beliefs, opinions, and ways of life came about among the peoples of the earth.

Miss Friedrich encourages discussion in freshman social education class.

Models of ways of life often help make social studies more vital to students. Pictured above Mrs. Nyland, Miss Crauter, Mrs. Gauthier, Mr. Gunderson and Mr. Bryant look at a model made by a world history student.

Homecoming . . . and the first of our four second place awards for our float "Around the World with Music." "Island in the Sun" . . . our frosh frolic . . . far same, also our first date.

That sophomore year . . . we felt so big . . . we directed the freshmen to classes. Remember the work parties for our float "How Time Flies" . . . and our second and second award. New academic experiences . . . biology . . . Julius Caesar . . . United Nations notebooks. Our interpretation of "The Land of Oz", the soph hop.

"What do you know, we're upper-classmen!" This year brought . . . debates in U.S. history . . . chemistry . . . speech . . . service club . . . honor societies. We were proud of our homecoming float, "Holland Hello" . . . our junior prom, "Sleepy Lagoon" . . . and our first three-act play, "Ladies of the Jury."

As the last weeks whizzed past . . . festivities . . . honors . . . class picnic . . . baccalaureate . . . and finally graduation . . . made us realize that we would now be Astoria High graduates.

HALL OF FAME FOR CLASS OF '61

As the members of the Class of '61 recall the activities and events that have made the last four years memorable for them they elect to their "Hall of Fame" some of their classmates particularly noted for certain traits that set them apart. Standing in the FRONT ROW are Best All-Around, Cheryl Westman and Jerry Utti; Most Talkative,

Mary Tennant and Ronald Biddle; Life of the Party, Leslie Jallie and Eric Hauke; SECOND ROW, Most Athletic, Arninne Rautio and Richard Williams; and Most Likely to Succeed, James Browning and Merrily Jacobson.

JUNIORS . . . CLASS OF '62

The officers who lead the Class of '62 through a successful year are Susan Hendrickson, president; William Cunningham, vice-president; Margaret Miller, secretary; Jenine Timmerman, treasurer; James Paschall, sergeant-at-arms.

We the class of '62 have become juniors at last . . . How could we ever have been freshmen . . . They have seemed so small this year . . . How could the halls of Astoria High ever have seemed strange or forboding . . . They are our home . . . School began with Miss Crouter's words, "Walk proudly; you are upperclassmen now." ringing in our ears. Classes seemed harder than ever this year . . . "Boy do they load on the assignments" . . . But we pitched into our work with vigor.

Homecoming . . . "We just have to win that trophy again" . . . We the class of '62 made history again . . . We were awarded the homecoming trophy for the third consecutive year.

Dances, ball games, assemblies . . . Oh, yes, the assemblies. This reminds us of our skit, the juniors' first try for culture . . . grand opera?" We tried our hand at play production with the comedy, "Tish" . . . Our frantic efforts resulted in a delightful performance in which the cast did a commendable job, aided by the tireless efforts of our director, Mr. Reuter.

Iowa Tests . . . "How could we have been so dumb the first time we took them" . . . We put on the Junior Prom, one of the most successful ever . . . "It was so beautiful."

Then it was spring . . . seniors were talking about graduation . . . we were busy with the traditional Junior-Senior festivities . . . ushering at graduation . . . turning in books.

We have ended an outstanding year with the help of our advisers, Miss Maude Crouter, Miss Beverly Thorne, and Mr. William Reuter . . . whom we did appreciate though we often forgot to say so.

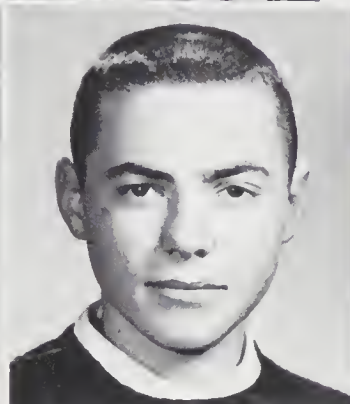

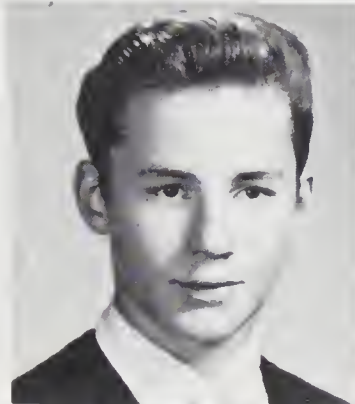

Slamming our lockers for the last time . . . we can begin vacation with anticipation for next year when we will take the helm as seniors.

CLASS COUNCIL STEERS ACTIVITIES

The Junior Class Council keeps the class united by planning the class activities with the officers. They are as follows: SEATED, Frances Winters, Julie Thamsan, Laila Uunila, Sally Hoff, and Marian Bue; STANDING, Fletcher Jahnsan, Patrick Jensen, and Jim McNeeley; not pictured, Steve Craig, Brian Lempea, Kathy Jensen, and Tam Thampsan.

"The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away;
Blest be the name of the Lord."

Our Junior year was saddened
By the tragic death of a fellow classmate,
Michael John Helligso,
In an accident last fall.
Though he is gone, he will not be forgotten.
For, with his friends, his memory shall linger.

SOPHOMORES

A new year . . . with old friends . . . "Long time no see" . . . "How'd summer life treat you?" . . . and new friends . . . "Where did you yusta live?" . . . "Nice to have ya here." . . . new teachers . . . "I hear she's not so bad." . . . and our classes . . . "Know what I heard 'bout biology?" . . . "Our last year requiring P.E., but we'll always have English."

School life goes on . . . work piles on . . . "I thought it was bad last year" . . . and on and on . . . "This homework, its pure persecution."

Homecoming . . . a welcome change of pace . . . exciting, festive season . . . "How about Mardi Gras Marauders?" . . . filled with class spirit . . . "Oh when the sophs go-marching in." We didn't win . . . but we had fun trying.

And that's not all . . . There were gay, hectic days . . . preparing and decorating . . . "Will we ever get everything organized?" . . . anticipation and anxiety . . . "What will I wear?" . . . Still we found success . . . a grand achievement . . . the traditional Soph Hop.

We happily reminisce . . . our second year at A.H.S. . . . "We finally made it." . . . looking forward to another year . . . "What a challenge." . . . soon to become upper classmen . . . the class of '63.

CLASS OF 1964 LARGEST

High school . . . We're here at last . . . just think — hamburgers, milk shakes, potato chips — anything we want for lunch . . . four years of homecoming parades, games, and dances . . . We freshmen entered school last fall full of anticipation . . . How scared and shy we were, but still very eager to begin a new phase of our journey to adulthood . . . so many new faces . . . new names to be learned . . . new friends to be made.

What a beautiful building! . . . but such a maze . . . Would we ever be able to find our way from one class to another without getting lost in the stampede along the way? . . . Those upperclassmen were so big . . . "They know everything" . . . What a friendly and helpful faculty . . . Our Social Ed. teachers even took us on a conducted tour of the building . . . and our wonderful, patient, long-suffering advisers . . . Miss Friedrich, Mrs. Nopson, and Mr. Phillips . . . Who said teachers aren't human?

Then there was the thrill of being part of the Astoria High School spirit at the pep assemblies . . . the excitement of yelling ourselves hoarse at our first football games even though our toes were freezing . . . the satisfaction of working together as a class for the first time and constructing a unique float for the homecoming parade.

Gradually the newness wore off and before we knew it we wondered how it ever could have seemed strange or confusing . . . The weeks flew by and soon it was Christmas . . . Oh, how welcome that vacation was . . . Then came basketball season . . . Our time was filled with games, dances, club activities, and plenty of that excellent time consumer, which the teachers were thoughtful enough to provide us with — homework . . . Semester exams . . . "Why didn't I learn this stuff before" . . . and at long last another vacation . . . Spring! . . . While the world of nature was awakening from a winter's nap, we were taking Iowa tests . . . "Gee, I never knew there was so much I didn't know" . . . putting on our Frosh Frolic . . . "It sure was a lot of work, but it was worth it" . . . Finally after the flurry of final tests our first year of high school was over . . . Although we are very glad to see summer come, we shall, nevertheless, be eager to return next year as sophomores.

MOTTO: "BUSINESS AS USUAL"

Office Girls Help

Under the guidance of the school secretaries, the office girls learn to run office machines and also learn the procedures necessary to keeping the office running smoothly. Experience is the reward of the office girl.

Secretaries Assist

Always ready to help both faculty and students are A.H.S. secretaries, Mrs. Alma Clarke and Mrs. Hilka Egtvedt. Everything, including aiding new students, collecting fees, and handling everyday business and correspondence, falls into the hands of these two capable secretaries.

Hilka Egtvedt and Alma Clarke, Astoria High secretaries, pool their resources to solve an office problem.

QUOTE: "... WORK IS NEVER DONE"

After making breakfast for their families at home, the cooks at A.H.S. work all morning preparing nutritious meals for the students. Fixing foods from salads to desserts, they set up both an a la carte menu and a plate lunch.

Three of the staff are mothers of high school students and Mrs. Hiestand, the cafeteria supervisor, is the wife of Mr. John Hiestand of the faculty.

A.H.S. cooks seem happy to be cornered for a picture. They are Poulina Kantrat, Mildred Hiestand, Anne Knutinen, Lucille Smith, Gertrude Wright, Ethel Alsbury, and Elsie Smith.

Moving furniture is only one of the jobs of the school custodians. Three of the force pictured here are Rudy Ranta, Sig Smith and Vic Stongland.

Working in shifts, from six o'clock in the morning until midnight, the school custodians are responsible for keeping the buildings in tip top shape, running the furnaces, cleaning up after games, dances and plays, and keeping the lawns and flower beds groomed. Night classes make their tasks doubly hard.

so, junior representative; B. Calaiuta, sophomore representative; M. Juvakainen, freshman representative; M. Bue, standard bearer; N. Lare, scrapbook keeper.

"I'm your big sister." is one of the first greetings a girl receives when entering A.H.S. The Girls' League fulfills its purpose of promoting friendship and fellowship by sponsoring the big and little sister program.

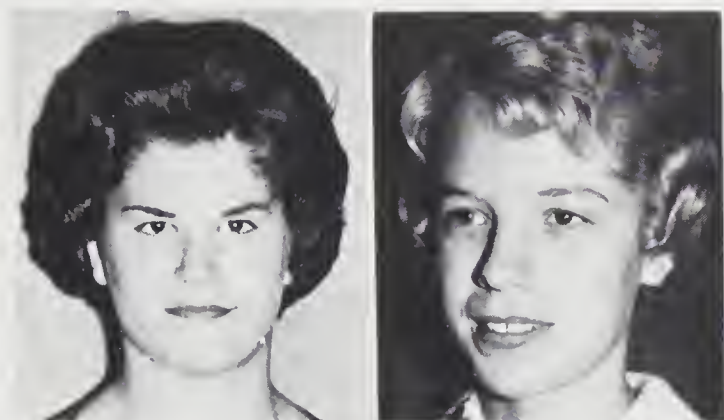

Among its other varied activities, the League presented a Thanksgiving assembly and a fashion show, and awarded a scholarship to two deserving senior girls.

King Jim and Queen Jane are crowned at the Valentine Dance which was sponsored by the League.

"SHE'S THE GIRL OF THE MONTH"

Leslie Jallie, Miss School Spirit, is a senior. To Leslie's right is Virginia Larsan, a sophomore, who was named Miss Dependability.

"The Girl of the Month is —." How familiar these words are to every student at A.H.S. Each month the Girls' League bestows this honor upon a girl who has been outstanding for one of the fine character traits for which the award is given.

Freshman, Sara Marrow, Miss Personality, and junior, Glaria Custufsan, Miss Character, are the November and December Girls of the Month.

The honor of being Miss Scholarship is given to Diana Halt, a freshman, while Susan Easter, a senior, is named Miss Loyalty.

Janice Romsas is chosen as Miss Leadership. Sally Haff is this year's Miss Service and the May choice for Miss Vitality is Nancy Haagland.

BOYS' FED. VARIES AGENDA

Mr. Sorenson and Bruce Wesche admire the new jockets purchased for the Boosters Bays by the Boys' Fed.

The Boys' Federation, headed by Bruce Wesche, has been the sponsoring organization of many of the activities for male members of the student body.

Through the medium of speakers and movies, programs have been presented on such subjects as law enforcement, and traffic and hunting safety.

New students are welcomed, and soon become a part of the working organization.

Their actions demonstrate the meaning of school spirit and good citizenship to all.

ZEPHYRUS RECORDS ALL EVENTS

Compiling an accurate and representative yearbook for the student body has been the main goal of the 1961 Zephyrus staff. The annual is the only permanent written and pictorial record of each school year.

Besides planning the original layouts, indexing names, and writing copy, the staff must manage the financing of the publication. The photography department takes and develops all of the pictures.

Susan Foster, the editor-in-chief, and Joe Coulombe, the business manager, assisted by Mrs. Christensen and Mr. Basaraba, have headed the multiple projects that have been accurately executed.

Janice Snow, editor elect, and her selected staff are looking forward to the next yearbook.

ASTOR POST VOICES OPINIONS

Miss Curry instructs Ann Altheide, editor, and Tom Thompson, editor elect, of the Astor Post in the art of good journalism.

Besides publishing twelve bi-weekly editions this year, the Astor Post staff, headed by Ann Altheide, editor, and Miss Curry, adviser, put out two special editions, one of Christmas and one for graduation.

Other student body services of the group included compiling a student directory and the voter's pamphlet.

In school and public affairs, the Astor Post took an active stand on the issues of the drug strip and the school clean-up program.

A number of the twenty six staff members stated that their experiences on the paper "couldn't possibly be forgotten."

NAT'L HONOR GIVES RECOGNITION

Mary Lee LeMond and Suzanne Seeborg are among initiates who are inducted into the National Honor Society before the assembly. Members assisting in the ceremony are Betty Winters, John Miller, Susan Larson, Susie Foster, and Janice Larson.

The National Honor Society recognizes outstanding students who have shown excellent qualities of character, service and leadership, and have made commendable scholarship records.

Just the upper fourth of the junior and senior classes are eligible for consideration. With only eight per cent of the juniors and twelve and one half per cent of the seniors finally elected by a vote of the faculty, this is an honor well worth the effort it costs.

Twenty-five freshmen and sophomores, because of their scholastic ability, leadership, character, and service, were voted into the National Junior Honor Society this year by the faculty.

These students were initiated before the student body at a special assembly, following the National Honor Society installation.

The society stepped into the social whirl with its annual dance for the student body.

Mary Ann Augustin, secretary of Junior Honor, presents new members with their membership pins during the installation ceremony.

FORENSIC PROMOTES SPEECH

The Forensic Club, organized to promote interest in speech, also helps its members gain speaking experience and provides them with stimulating activities in which to participate. Among this year's activities were a simulated election campaign sparked with humor, an informative panel on "Africa, Triumph or Tragedy," presented by the Portland State College speech department, and a spring pot luck honoring the seniors.

Members of the competitive speech class give a choral reading of Thanksgiving poems.

The Speech Squad, all members of Forensics, are bound for the state speech tournament.

Thespian members this year are, FRONT ROW, R. Lowe, J. Leahy, B. Brennan, D. Smith, C. Stangland; SECOND ROW, adviser, Mrs. N. Christensen; B. Everett, L. Taival, L. Jollie, J. Kaarila, C. Morgan, T. Ryding, K. Hellberg, president; THIRD ROW, M. Miller, C. Hansen,

DRAMATIC ARTS RECOGNIZED

New Thespians are seen signing the society charter during the initiation.

The National Thespian Society, whose aim is to further the dramatic arts, offers life membership to those who have earned sufficient points in acting, directing or working in stagecraft.

"Act well your part; there all honor lies." This motto of the society sums up the ideals of the Thespians.

MATH CLUB GROWS STRONG

John Kaakinen, outstanding math student, demonstrates how he does a Trig problem.

Open to students taking higher mathematics, the math club, with meetings and various math contests, spurs its members to further mathematical accomplishments.

Now in its fourth year, the math club has increased its membership since students have come to realize the importance of extended training in this field of study.

Advised by Mr. Reuter, the club takes trips of interest and views films and material on this subject.

LATIN COMES ALIVE IN CLUB

The Astoria Chapter of the Latin Club has, in recent years, grown to be one of the largest clubs in school.

The group looks forward each year to its Roman banquet, which is given in true Patrician style — with all members reclining around low tables enjoying exotic foods.

All is not fun, however, for members take national tests and undertake research projects on Roman history.

Old Rome is brought to Astoria High at the annual Latin banquet. The toga-attired students, for a while, assume the personalities of early Romans.

Members of the Spanish Club posed together in a rare gathering are, FIRST ROW, Adviser Miss Thorne, M. Miller, B. Cunningham, G. Ojo, C. Westman, E. Houke, K. Seppo, M. Davis, L. Jollie, G. ## CULTURE OF SPAIN STUDIED

A colorful Spanish poster is tacked to the bulletin board by Cheryl Westmon and John Kaakinen.

The Spanish Club, this year, followed its custom of acquainting students with a different culture. On Fridays, reports and various pieces of literature brought the people of the Spanish-speaking countries into the class room. Some of the more interested gained insight through the aid of "penpals."

In addition to carrying out its main program, the club also sponsored such activities as a cake sale, a Christmas "pinata" party, and a club picnic.

FRENCH CULTURE SCANNED

"The Little Restaurant" was a popular place at the "Mont Blanc" after-game dance put on by the French Club.

The informal atmosphere of a ski lodge was chosen as the theme of the French Club after-game dance.

Introduction to France through a study of its language and customs is an educational experience available to Astoria students.

The French Club was formed to add interest to the academic studies. This group met every Friday when French conversations, newspapers and movies were the order of the day.

Social events on the calendar were a club tea with decorated sandwiches the piece de resistance and an aftergame dance entitled "Maunt Blanc."

I. R. L. STUDIES WORLD PROBLEMS

The Astoria Chapter of the International Relations League was again honored with a state office this year when Laila Uunila was elected state historian at the conference on the Oregon Campus.

Preparation for the model United Nations, which was the main feature of this state meeting, was the chief interest of the local group. Nine members, accompanied by Mrs. Nyland and Mrs. Gauthier, went to Eugene as delegates to the U.N. from Saudi Arabia. Miss Maud Crouter, who has been an enthusiastic adviser of the I.R.L. since its organization in March, 1947, will retire to the more restful occupation of gardening at the end of this year.

Delegates to the Model U.N. meeting take a final check on the Charter for World Security.

dle, Eva Uunila, Willa Varner, Mrs. Nyland, adviser. THIRD ROW, Miss Crouter, and Mrs. Gauthier, advisers; Susie Foster, Laila Uunila, Jack Huhtala, Jolene Walden, Judy Koppen and Susan Perila.

LIBRARY GUIDES OFFER HELP

Daily, the library staff helps students select books and do other library work. Some of the class assignments during the year are: making bulletin board displays, writing book reviews and learning better methods of using the library.

The Library Club is composed of busy students assisting Miss Halderman throughout the year, but it also promotes many other activities. Among its social functions are the annual "Get Acquainted" and "Christmas" teas for the students.

The library club's annual "girl ask boy" dance was a huge success.

The members of F.H.A. busily add snapshots of their activities to the club scrapbook. They are C. Albertsen, S. Lawsan, K. Biddle, Miss Baker, adviser; S. Paulsen, J. Paulsen, president; L. Hartill, J. Coulambe, and K. Antilla.

F. H. A. LEARNS DOMESTIC ARTS

"Toward New Horizons" is the motto of the Future Homemakers of America. To help individuals improve their personal, family, and community living is the over-all goal of the organization.

This year the girls of the Astoria Chapter have taken a very active interest in their F.H.A. Club. They decorated a down-town window with a Home Economics display; put on, together with the Girls' League, a fashion show; and raised money by a cup cake sale and a car wash.

"We decorate a cake like this —"

F. T. A. FACES FUTURE CHALLENGE

F.T.A. members who codet teach during seventh and eighth periods are T. Robertson, A. Rautio, E. Uunila, L. Uunilo, S. Seeborg, J. Mc-

Groner, H. Larson, S. Larson, M. Miller, J. Sogen, L. Jallie, S. Foster, and B. Winters.

Suzanne Seeborg tires her hand at codet teaching in Copt. Robert Gray School.

Today more emphasis has been placed on education than ever before. Since there is an increasing shortage of qualified teachers, the Future Teachers of America fills the needed position of encouraging students to train themselves for this field. The main activity of this club is codet teaching. In this they observe classes at the grade schools and the junior high and occasionally are permitted to teach.

"Don't laugh! You might fall!" G.A.A. adviser, Mrs. Layton, looks on as Harlene Basel, the base, Ardi Urell, standing, and Janice Snow, precariously stretched between the other two girls, build a tricky pyramid.

G.A.A. girls are proud of the fact that their club, organized in 1930, is one of Astoria High's oldest and most active groups. The members promote health, good sportsmanship, athletic accomplishments, and the love of outdoors.

Every Thursday the girls meet in the gym for an after-school activity period under the supervision of Mrs. Layton and Mrs. Gauthier.

Several times a year all of the G.A.A. clubs in the county meet for "playnite." Astoria is proud to say that they won the county volleyball championship at one of these events.

Distributive Education provides qualified juniors and seniors with an opportunity to receive high school credits while gaining valuable on-the-job work experience. With the school providing the classroom training, and the employer the actual work experience, D.E. is an excellent proof of the inter-relationship that can exist between school and job. Some of the activities included in the program of this class are: keeping a scrapbook, running the student store, planning and putting on a dance, going on field trips, and conducting surveys.

Dressed in their best backward clothes for the Snikwah Eidas are Virginia Sagen and Richard Swails, Pat Parker and William Cunningham.

This snappy organization of thirty upperclass girls works very hard for very little recognition. Besides their general promotion of pep and school spirit throughout the year, they perform many seasonal duties. In the fall and winter they can be seen hurrying about selling tickets and refreshments at all football and basketball games. Their Sadie Hawkins Dance adds to school entertainment in the fall. Spring time finds them busily preparing for the annual all-sports banquet.

"Hi," say the happy twins, Nancy and Susan Lare, on the traditional "Hello Day" at A.H.S.

FISHERETTES SHOW SPIRIT

Fisherettes, Astoria High's drill team and marching group, are well known in the Lower Columbia area.

These freshman and sophomore girls are drilled and advised by Mrs. Layton during their P.E. period.

Appearing at all home games as half time entertainment, marching in the homecoming and Regatta parades, and putting on a dance keep these trim, energetic girls quite busy.

Fisherettes busy themselves selling Smorgasbord tickets.

Practice pays off during half-time entertainment.

Astoria High's peppy pepsters Valerie Titus, Judie Maddax, Judy Petersen, Cheryl Westman, Sandy Richardson, Darathy Gerritz, and Judy Benson are practicing one of their intricate routines.

Good friends, even during the tedious practices, are Astoria High's vivacious rally squad, Jane Marfitt, Carol Mather, and rally queen, Jan Ramsas.

RALLY, PEPSTERS SPARK SPIRIT

"Let's hear one big Astoria, 'Who's got the bestest team in the league?'" These words were yelled countless times by this year's Varsity Rally Squad. Besides leading the rooters in cheering the team on to victory, the Rally planned and directed the pep assemblies."

Straw hats, canes, swinging pom poms, and twirling skirts of Pepsters sparked all Astoria High School games and pep assemblies.

To the Rally and Pepsters is assigned the additional task maintaining school spirit at all sports activities.

UNDERCLASS RALLY SPIRITED

The J.V. rally demonstrates its ability to lead yells. Members are Lena Paulsan, Susie Hendricksan, Claudia Marshall, Nancy Haagland, and Ann Williams.

J.V. Rally

Cheering, clapping, leading their classmates in yells are the responsibilities of the trim J.V. Squad, elected by the class of '63. This year's squad took their duties seriously. Besides yelling at games, these girls have been kept busy devising routines and serving on the sophomore executive council.

Frosh Rally

After fun-filled try-outs and a suspenseful election, the first job of the new Frosh Rally Squad was orienting themselves to their new position. The girls found, that in spite of small attendance, enthusiasm ran high at the frosh games. These ambitious girls also worked on the frosh pep skit, and contributed much time to the Freshman Cabinet.

Working together for the first time as members of the Frosh Rally Squad are Lorraine Jahansen, Bonnie Hagededt, Sarah Marrow, Janice Parpala and Lucille Jahansen.

The "A" Club, under the leadership of George Ojo, has taken charge of assemblies and student disciplinary measures around the school again this year.

Members can be seen at every home and pep assembly setting up bleachers, unrolling mats, and holding ropes to keep people off the court. Adequate seating space at Gyro this fall was provided through the hard work of this group, which moved the bleachers from the armory. The purple and gold point on the trash cans was also their idea.

Keen competition for points, which is a tradition with the club, adds much interest. The winner receives a prize at the end of the year.

"A" Club spark plugs the school clean up with the painting of purple and gold trash cans.

"Where do I go?" "When is vacation?" "What is in the Constitution?" These questions and more are answered in the Fisherman's Log, a handbook of school rules and activities compiled during the summer by the staff as a means of orientation for new students.

LUCIA COCHI, ITALIAN FRIEND

President Utti extends student body greetings to Lucia on her birthday.

Lucia "Lucy" Cochi, 18, from Rome, Italy, was A.H.S.'s second foreign exchange student. She was brought here through the program of the American Field Service, headed in this area by Mrs. Robert Lovell.

The attractive, likeable girl, while in Astoria, lived with Mr. and Mrs. Al Mather and their daughter, Carol.

Adept in English even on arrival, Lucy fitted quickly into her new life, thoroughly enjoying school and social activities and making herself a "real fisherman" by being a member of the Service Club.

She was willing to share her knowledge and experience. One evening a week she taught Italian to willing classmates, and after the first of the year spoke to civic groups and participated in foreign exchange school visits.

Lucy, enrolled as a senior here, graduated with the class of '61 before returning to Italy in June.

To send the 1960 Homecoming off to a thrilling start, Senior Barbara Timmerman was crowned queen of the Mardi Gras festivities by student body president, Jerry Utti. Queen Barbara and her court, one of the principal attractions in the Homecoming Parade, made another public appearance as royalty during the half-time of the game with David Douglas. One of the most enjoyable duties of the court was to reign over the Homecoming Dance, and they did so gladly and graciously.

MARDI GRAS HOMECOMING THEME

Homecoming 1960, with its colorful gaiety of parade, pep rally, football game, and dance will be memorable to the alumni and students alike. A special welcome was accorded the Astoria graduates through greeting signs in downtown windows and the alumni tea that was held in the school cafeteria.

The Mardi Gras theme created enthusiasm and keen competition between classes. For the third consecutive year, the class of '62 was awarded the Homecoming trophy for outstanding competition in the parade and the rally.

Although they lost, the Fishermen showed their fighting spirit in the exciting game with David Douglas.

The Homecoming dance completed the festivities.

Competition between classes sparks enthusiasm at bonfire rally.

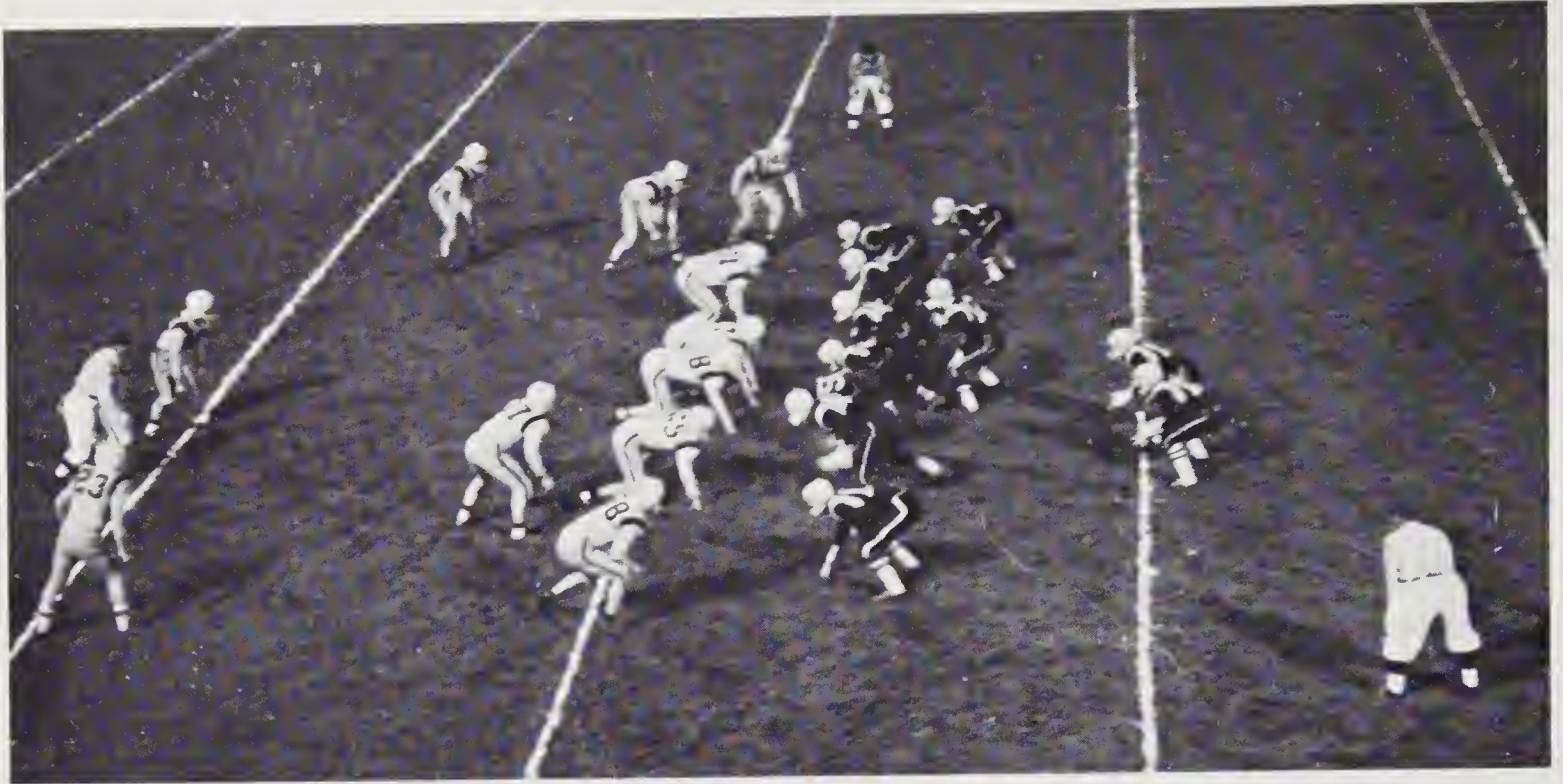

"King Rex's Royal Welcome," the junior float, earns a first place in the Homecoming parade.

"WET BUT WONDERFUL"

Susan Hendrickson, junior class president, gladly accepts the homecoming trophy from Merrily Jacobson, homecoming chairman.

"I'm telling ya like a brother . . . !" says Mr. Bryant during half time of the big game.

LET'S ACT! READY! CURTAIN!

"On stage, everyone!" is the call of the director to assemble his cast for instructions. The dramatics class is arranged for those students who have "always wanted to be in a play." It is fun, but it is also work.

To give practical experience and playing roles, the A.H.S. class, under the direction of Mrs. Christensen, has put on two programs of one-act plays this year. Giving play reviews, studying voice control, pantomiming, and makeup artistry are some of their other projects.

"What beautiful weather we're having today," says Gregori Smirnov to Mrs. Papov in the delightful play "The Boar." Playing the parts are Dennis Smith and Kathryn Jensen.

"I was just about to nick — Nick!" says Jim Pesanen to Gary LaMarr in the "Mystery of Mauldy Manar." The others pictured are J. Piippa, L. Taival, K. Samuelsen, L. Uunila, M. Kaskela, T. Flippa, and C. Marrell (Ghost).

Drama students prepare "The Gift of Tenyin," an unusual Japanese play, for the Christmas program. The cast, from left to right, are B. Everett, W. Brennan, K. Samuelsen, K. Jensen, L. Uunila (kneeling), L. Taival, and L. Wilson.

In a setting of wintery splendor, surrounded by her court, Queen Judy Benson reigns. Pictured are Lucia Cochi, Mike Josephsan, Sharan Kubik, Bill Canessa, Queen Judy, Ronald Biddle, Sandi Esko, Richard Williams, Cheryl Westman and George Oja.

SENIORS CREATE WONDERLAND

"Wonderland by Night," exclaimed a delighted guest as she and her escort entered the transformed cafeteria on the night of the annual Senior Ball. The snowflaked ceiling, the frosted windows, the delightful winter mural captured the enchantment of winter.

Highlighting the evening was the crowning of Judy Benson as queen of the ball, by class president, Joey Leahy. Her court of lovely princesses included Lucia Cochi, Sandi Esko, Sharon Kubik, and Cheryl Westman.

Specials of the evening were the "live orchestra" from Portland and talented seniors who provided additional entertainment.

"What a perfect dance!"

QUEEN SALLY REIGNS AT PROM

From the moment the guests entered the ball room, coming over the bridge and through the arbor, they felt the magic of "Some Enchanted Evening," the night of the Junior Prom.

The twinkling lights shone on murals of summer meadows and dancing silhouettes, and the beautifully decorated throne room made a fitting setting for the Junior court.

After dancing to the "dreamy" music of the Melo-Tones from Centennial High, couples waited expectantly for the presentation of the queen. She proved to be popular Sally Hoff, who was immediately crowned Queen Sally by Bill Cunningham, junior class vice-president.

Special entertainers for the royal court were the Junior Trio and Margene Sorenson, who gave a ballet solo.

Live music adds "extro something" to the Junior Prom.

The members of the royal court of the Junior Prom and their escorts are Morion Bue and Steve Craig; Suson Hendrickson and Haword

Clarke; Queen Sally Hoff and Vernon Fowler; Judie Maddax and Bill Cunningham; Jenine Timmerman and Dick Swails.

ORIENTAL FANTASY INTRIGUING

Informal dress is the made at the "dreamy" soph hop.

The night of the Soph Hop, "Oriental Fantasy" became a reality when one entered the cafeteria through a passage bordered by lacy pink trees.

A rickshaw, Japanese lanterns, the customary tea table and other decorations typical of the Far East all added enchantment to the decore.

The Soph Trio and a humorous skit by a group of class "sailors" provided special entertainment.

Bernice Amundsen, Beth Lockwood, and Jone Moki, sophomore "coolies," entertain at the hop.

FROSH CHOOSE PARISIAN THEME

Parisian Cafe in the making.

For this year's Frosh Frolic, French art, picturesque garden scenes, and candlelit tables transformed the cafeteria into a "Parisian Cafe." Replicas of famous sights to be seen were the Eiffel Tower and the Arch of Triumph. With this skillful decorative scheme they succeeded in creating the atmosphere of "gay Paree."

Freshmen provided their own half-time entertainment with can-can dancers, a guitar-playing minstrel and a chorus singing French songs.

Freshmen are hard at work creating a "Parisian Cafe."

STUDENT BODY

"Who'll give me $5.00 for this trio of strong backs?" urges "auctioneer" Reuter.

"Eureka! A loose chair. Quick! Shove it in place," says Jim Lovell to the School Betterment Committee Chairman Jeff Williams, as Sandi Esko and Maradee Davis look on approvingly.

HI-LIGHTS

During World Friendship Day, the foreign exchange students from this area display their talents before the A.H.S. student body. Riccarda Tacenarda, Italy, sings "Amore" while David Rix, England, Jaerg Haffman, Germany, Daniel Verburg, Belgium, and Lucia Cachi wait their turns.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ross, sponsors of the Ed and Eda Ross scholarships, are honored at a tea in the high school library.

FINE ARTS

A. H. S. BAND

"This is by far the finest band I have ever worked with," stated Mr. Ted Marshall, director of music at Astoria High.

The validity of this statement can be measured by the widespread audience approval and countless compliments which the band received.

After an auspicious winter concert Astoria's band was honored by being chosen as one of the three high school bands in six states to perform at the Northwest Music Educators' Conference held in Spokane in March. A "Send the band to Spokane" fund-raising campaign financed the trip, and the band's performance at the clinic won the praises of the attending music directors.

Among other engagements, the band performed at A.H.S. home football games, the Metro League Festival, the spring concert, and at graduation.

Piippo, and Mr. T. Marshall, director.

Under the direction of Mr. Ted Marshall, the choirs and special vocal groups have provided programs again this year, plus several numbers for special assemblies. They, also, assisted the band in its efforts to raise money for a trip to Spokane.

In February, participants of five schools gathered in the high school auditorium for the regional choir clinic, hosted by the A.H.S. music department.

The mixed chorus made its first appearance at the Thanksgiving Assembly. In April, a trip was taken to Sunset High School, where Metro League choirs had a chance to listen to each other and be criticized by professionals.

Freshman Girls' Glee trains the girls for future participation in Mixed Chorus as well as gives them experience in entertaining. They, too, performed for the student body at the Thanksgiving and Easter assemblies.

Appearing at the downtown Home and Auto show and singing for baccalaureate were other ways these young singers portrayed their ability. The combined efforts of the Mixed Chorus and the Girls' Glee Club produced an enjoyable spring concert, to climax this year's activities.

Rated as another success for the seniors, "Mother is a Freshman" was presented by Mr. Carl Carlson, the comedy gave a new lift to play presentations here.

The problems which occur when a girl's mother attends college with her daughter are the basis of the plot. Leslie Jollie, in her leading part, played the mother, Abigail, who attracts the college boys as well as Professor Michaels (Jerry Utti) to her side as she opposes Dean Gillingham (Bill Brennan). Her daughter (Dee Dee Granlee) tries unsuccessfully to face the fact that her mother is a Freshman.

Like all good comedies it all ends happily.

JUNIOR PLAY "TISH" SUCCESS

"Oh, Tish!" says Susie during rehearsal for the play.

"Tish," a lively, fast-moving comedy, produced by the Junior Class, under the direction of Mr. William Reuter, entertained record audiences on the second and third of February.

Tish (Laila Uunila), a woman whose severe, domineering exterior hides a soft heart, is a close friend of Lizzie (Margaret Miller), and Aggie (Susan Hendrickson). These ladies are constantly getting into scrapes to the chagrin of Tish's nephew, Charlie Sands (Vernon Fowler).

However, their mishaps are offset by the romance of Charlie and Ellen (Sheryl Hansen), the owner of the hotel.

In her review, in the Daily Astorian, Phillippa Seabrook stated that a big audience liked the play.

"You'll do nothing of the sort," cried Tish (Laila Uunila) to the sheriff (Ralph Brown). The rest of the cast is as follows: SEATED, Pamela Falleur, Susan Hendrickson, and Margaret Miller; STAND-

At the beginning of the year, Astoria's team was rated potentially strong. The first games of the season started hopefully with a 3-1 win-loss record. Upsetting Central Catholic 14-7 was a surprise win, but for some reason, according to Coach Bryant, the winning peak was reached during that game, and was not held.

In spite of critical injuries and stiff opposition, the Fishermen finished the season with a final record of four wins and five losses.

Hard-running Ron Biddle garnered fifty-four points to make him Astoria's top scorer and Metro League's fifth highest point maker. John Bunke and Rick Williams were nominated to the Metro All Stars, and Ron Biddle, Glen Chestnut, Vernon Fowler, and Jeff Lampa received honorable mentions.

Tom Flippo was voted most inspirational football player by his teammates and was awarded a plaque at the Lettermen's Banquet.

The first string was well-supported by the "Bone Squad," those unnoticed second stringers who helped perfect the plays and backed their teammates from the bench.

Next year's team promises to have a strong, experienced line. Backfield hopes depend on this year's strong J.V.'s who have gained experience through their own successful season.

J. V. Places First

With a 7—1 win-loss record, the A.H.S. J.V.'s unofficially placed first in the Metro League standing. Coach Mosby and his team can be very proud of their hard work. The backfield, with the support of a hard-fighting line, should be a winning combination for next year's varsity team.

Frosh Record 3—3

Under the watchful eyes of coaches Douglas Clark and Dale Evans, the inexperienced freshmen developed into a hard-fighting unified team. In a season in which they battled both frosh and J.V. teams, the Fingerlings managed to earn a respectable 3—3 record.

Frosh players are, FIRST ROW, K. Krous, D. West, J. Peterson, H. Whitney, D. Mogenson, M. Searls, M. Tagliavento, H. Swanson, Manager S. McKeon, R. Chessman, H. Eubanks, F. Fremstad, E. Bell, K. Crawford, R. Rubino, J. Henderson, H. Lonberg; THIRD ROW, Coach Evans, T. Bergstrom, P. Arnold, J. Marsh, L. Osterby, J. Wood, R. Hastings, R. Piland, W. Wilson, and Coach Clark.

gaard, R. Williams, B. Wesche; SECOND ROW, J. Pilgreen, G. La-Marr, T. Jaasko, D. Rampannen, J. Lampa, and G. Oja, captain.

BASKETBALL POPULAR AT A. H. S.

Astoria upset pre-season predictions by battling to a fourth place tie in the tough hoop action of the Metro league this year. Although hampered by a lack of returning lettermen, Jerry Mosby's short Fishermen netted wins over some of the league's best and proved themselves to be the "sleeper" of the league.

Three of the hoopsters were nominated to Metro All-Star posts. George Oja and Dave Romppanen made second string, and Bruce Wesche garnered honorable mention.

Coach Mosby will move up to athletic Director next year, but leaves behind an impressive 85-34 win-loss record during his five years as head basketball coach at Astoria High.

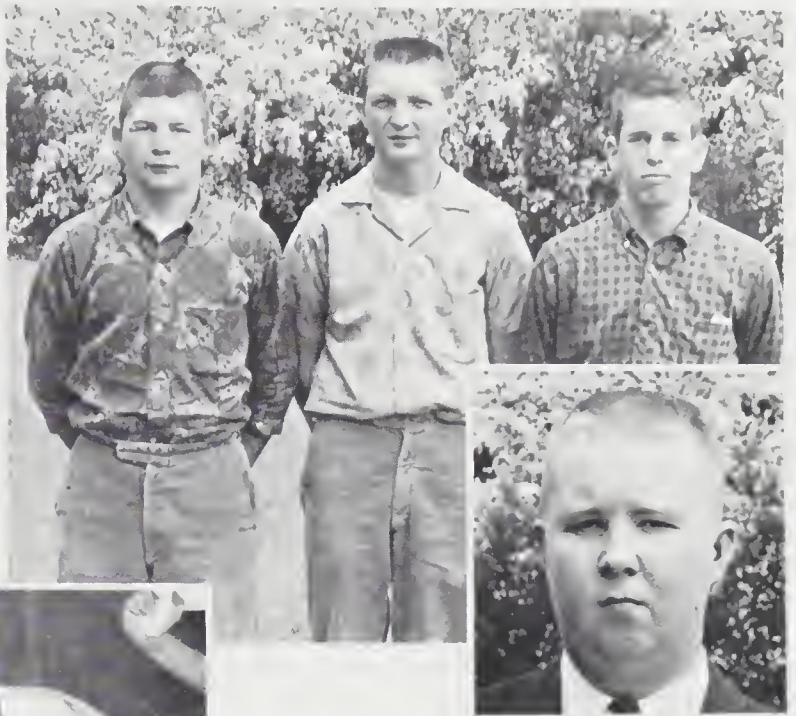

Captain George Oja holds his men in line.

"That was great! Now let's see you do it again!" says Coach Jerry Masby.

Chief manager, Ray Niemi, (in inset) has worked hard for four years as an athletic manager. This year his assistants are Gary Ellsworth and Mike Sarkki. Bill Cunningham is statistician.

"Now boys, this is a basketball!"

J. V.'S NET METRO FIRST PLACE

Under the experienced eye of Coach Pete Bryant, the J.V.'s, undefeated in Metro League play, netted first place in the league with an overall tally of 20-2 for the season. Emphasizing teamwork, they were beaten only by Mark Morris J.V.'s and the Star of the Sea Varsity (in non-league action).

Mr. Bryant steps up to head basketball coach next year to fill the vacancy left by Jerry Mosby.

Highpoint men for the Junior Varsity squad this year are Brian Lempea, Kenneth Husby, and Dennis Schalk.

san; SECOND ROW, C. Kaskela, L. Junkens, M. Hediger, H. Swanson; THIRD ROW, Mr. Gunderson, coach; and H. Whitney.

The Super Varsity chalked up a perfect record this year by winning all thirteen of their games. By the end of the season each player had been high scorer at least once. This squad will make good material for next year's varsity and J.V. teams.

Through a combination of height, good coaching and hard practice, the frosh basketball team forged through a winning season. Coach Doug Clark's sharpshooters rolled over all nineteen opponents, four of which were Metro League teams.

Frosh members of the "Little Fishermen" basketball team are, FIRST ROW, left to right, L. Kindred, J. Woods, J. Peterson, H. Utti, J. Saori; SECOND ROW, R. Chessman, D. Johnson, P. Arnald, R.

Ellswarth, L. Gray, B. Hastings; THIRD ROW, D. Clark, coach; D. West, V. Olsen, C. Tharsness, R. Ruitta, D. Petersan, and T. Lovvold, manager.

Whack! Johnny Laine slugs the ball.

"Our best season ever" was the comment of players on this year's diamond-playing varsity. Ending up with eleven wins and five losses, they captured fifth place, two games behind first-place Beaverton and David Douglas.

The high light of the season was the final game, a 14 inning 1-0 victory over Central Catholic.

Even though they weren't playing for league standing, the Junior Varsity baseballers garnered an impressive record of 13 wins and 5 losses. Coached by Jerry Mosby, they played a good season and look promising for next year.

Although the track squad did not have an outstanding year as a unit, individuals compiled impressive records. George Oja took a fourth place in the district meet with his 20' 1½" broad jump. Jim and John Miller, co-captains; Gary Graves in the mile and 880, Ron Larson and Mike Long in the shot put, and Jim Paavola and Mike Koskela in discus, all chalked points. Pat Arnold broke the 100 yard dash record with 10.9 for the third place frosh winners.

The J.V.'s, led by Mike Miller and Ken Wellman, placed eleventh in the state and first in Metro competition.

Astoria High School's inexperienced wrestling team compiled a 1-11 win-loss record in the Metro League. Roger Konradson and Don Wonderly finished 3rd and 4th respectively in their class in the district meet. When asked about the prospects for the future, Coach Donovan Phillips stated, "We hope to do better next year since most of the team will be back."

Anything but a strangle hold!

GRADUATION

OUTSTANDING SENIORS WIN

Merrily Jacobson has dedicated herself to her studies and her school. Through her school dedication, Merrily has earned the high recognition of the outstanding senior scholar, with a g.p.a. of 3.8654. She has taken an active part in school affairs as the first vice president of the student body, a member of the National Honor Society, and the Quill and Scroll Society.

Senior scholar Elizabeth Ann Merrill has earned top honors through pep and enthusiasm for her work. "Liz" has worked hard in school and has been an active member in school clubs and church activities. She, too, is a member of National Honor Society, Service Club and Mu Alpha Theta. A surprise announcement at the National Honor Society Initiation is that three seniors, pictured below, left to right, Richard Williams, Paul Soderman, and Susan Foster are awarded Ed and Eda Ross Scholarships of $2000 each.

Since ancient times when the Greeks crowned their victorious athletes with laurel wreaths, those who achieve have been recognized.

Today's best athletes receive trophies and gold medals, actors are awarded "Oscars," and many outstanding students, who have shown academic ability and great potentiality, are presented with scholarships. Besides being an honor to those who earn them, these scholarships help to solve the difficult problem of financing a college education.
